2. Even though the war has not formally changed a war over there has been a significant ~~changes~~ changes in national level strategic thinking. These changes primarily deal with military options or our nonmilitary posture and a flexible and selective responses, both nuclear and non-nuclear, to the entire spectrum of the Commit Threat.

3. Purpose of JSCP is to:

a) Translate national objectives and policies of the US into terms of military objectives, strategic concepts, tasks which are in consonance with actual US military capabilities.

b. Constitute a direction to CINC for the conduct of ops in cold, CW, GW.

c) Provide strategic & logistic planning guidance see Annex C, I (~~and~~ (C/E), and

4. G+C

- a In order to ensure that military force is applied effectively, maximum authority will be delegated to the commander(s) concerned for the carrying out of ops.
- b Unified and specialized committees will conduct operations; the JCIS will provide strategic guidance and insure the timely organization and support of forces engaged.
- c Integration of nuclear weapons in GW will be subjected to a greater degree of control than will be the case in CW.

GW/other

- 1 GIC, Generalissimo Command, Communications + information reporting system to permit controlled, coordinated and informed direction of all forces - combat ops.

32. CW Nuclear Weapons Policy: The decision to use nuclear weapons will be made by the ~~President~~ ~~is~~ will reflect the intent of the NSC & (i) making feasible effort to seek the win at a non-military level, but be prepared to use nuclear weapons when ~~aggressively~~ ~~not~~ nuclear aggression

33. The US will, at the time nuclear weapons are authorized for use by the President, provide additional guidance regarding:

33a. Nuclear weapons will be employed:

1) if they are used against US and allied forces.

2) if their use is necessary to maintain the tactical integrity of the forces engaged, or

3) if a deliberate political decision is made to ~~strategically~~, by demonstrating our will and ability to employ nuclear weapons, if necessary.

(See Compendium of Policy Propaganda) with appropriate nuclear response. (i) first non-nuclear attack will consider suspension when until US interests cannot be defended at the non-nuclear level

4. initiate a nuclear attack against the borders of the other nation or one of its major allies.

5. US forces should engage Soviet forces & overthrow its government. (Also) partial intervention; that is intervention to defend against the same way, & due to imminent invasion of Poland reinforcements.

6. It is recognized that, during the period of ~~the~~ peace, engagements between forces of the US and the USSR may occur which, in themselves, are not of such nature as to constitute sufficient cause for the US to implement GW from. The circumstances, existing and world climate under which an engagement occurs would be major factors in determining what our national response might be. It is not possible to determine in advance the precise parameters of possible engagement under which the US would:

1) initiate at least two nuclear military strikes, and thereby, or

2) engage the Soviet in lesser actions (war, proxy war, etc.) than with alternative of disengagement; withdrawal) by a. con. ends.

iii. General Plan: 9pm

General

2. The US, under condition of general war, will launch a nuclear strategic attack in accordance with the SISOP against designated elements of FS bloc strengths.

[Why? SISOP: 5th ^{ONSET} out of GW probably]

"will be characterized by the delivery of intensive nuclear blows by both sides." [... SISOP During initial phase]

iv. Presently, the SISOP is not yet in final form

... version which is normally formalized and the present one is still in draft form.

Provides for selective responses to the extent possible with due consideration to the degree of the availability of the committed forces.

126 (2) The World Allies now have an unified military strategy against which all courses of action must ultimately be weighed. This strength is the source of our greater potential of action. in the collective spectrum of war on a world-wide basis even though we do not match the S-S Bloc in all respects. Recognizing that success in warfare is as much a function of such intangible factors as military, psychological considerations and the like, the decision making process must not be unduly influenced by mere ^{type} strategical evaluations.

b (1) (above). It

Planning is to take into account:

1. Our overall military situation will be informed by noting that in all actions taken nuclear power is available to use at any time and that we know the will to use the power as required.

2. GW ops will be conducted on a scale and in a manner which reflects that the US and will to avoid the consequences of general war. [See Annex C] Operations will be conducted in such a manner as to afford us the maximum opportunity to take the initiative in using our power, but under our own rules.

3. US operation against the USSR may be conducted at a scale less than GW in order to:

1) Achieve those US objectives attainable short of GW.

2) Give the enemy to consider his course of action

3) Afford an opportunity for the enemy to suspend military operations

4) Establish the basis for political negotiations

5) Place the US in a better position to implement SALT I plus
